Soccer in the Streets Creates First Youth Soccer League in Atlanta's Historic Westside Neighborhoods

With a three-year, $75,000 grant received from The Arthur M. Blank Family Foundation in conjunction with the new MLS Atlanta franchise, Soccer in the Streets will launch a new youth soccer program in Atlanta's Historic Westside Neighborhoods, serving youth in Vine City, English Avenue and Castleberry Hill.

Programming will operate out of the John Hope Community Center and include youth league practice and game play, weekly pick-up games for kids and adults, referee training, enrichment activities off the field, and employment opportunities for local teenagers.

Families interested in signing up for the league can visit the John Hope Community Center during regular business hours or contact Soccer in the Streets directly at 1-888-436-5833. For more information on Soccer in the Streets, visit www.soccerstreets.org.

Art on the Atlanta BeltLine Launches $150,000 Fundraising Campaign

The Atlanta BeltLine Partnership (ABLP) has launched a $150,000 campaign to help fund the fifth annual Art on the Atlanta BeltLine exhibition. Now the largest temporary public art exhibition in the southeast, Art on the Atlanta BeltLine returns this fall with nearly 100 works of visual and performing art. Every dollar raised will go directly to support the exhibition and artists' work.

By choosing to donate to Art on the Atlanta BeltLine your contribution will go entirely to fund more artwork.

To donate, visit www.bit.ly/atlantabeltlineart. To read the full press release about the fundraising campaign, please visit here.
